

April 6, 2020

Notification of Cancellation - Premium Textile Japan 2021 Spring & Summer

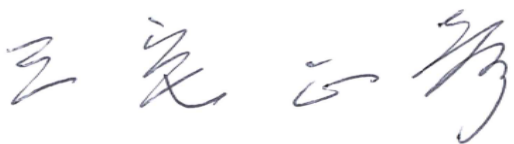

Unfortunately, JFW has decided to cancel the PTJ2021SS event, which was originally scheduled to take place over the period May 13-14, 2020 (Wed.-Thu.) due to the impact of the Novel Coronavirus (Covid-19) pandemic. This decision also reflects the government request to take 'measures such as canceling, postponing or downscaling events involving mass gatherings'.

Although we considered taking all possible preventive measures to make holding the show feasible, the current state of infection has not improved, despite our efforts and we concluded that the key aspects to avoid at all costs, namely: < Confined spaces >, < Crowded places > and < Situations involving close contact > would be impossible to avoid.

We would also like to offer heartfelt sympathies to all those affected by the Novel Coronavirus, particularly those living in areas affected by the ongoing pandemic.

Respectfully yours,

Masahiko Miyake
Chairman of the Board,
Japan Fashion Week Organization

2021 SPRING SUMMER

Premium Textile
Japan

 Japan
Fashion
Week
in TOKYO